

LULLWATER LATEST

DECEMBER 2015

Happy Holiday time to everyone!

We are glad to present you with this pictorial edition of the Lullwater Latest! We have included everything we received, and thank those of you who shared your photographs with us. It's been quite a year at the Lullwater Estate community, with several comings and goings, former residents to bid farewell, and newcomers to welcome.

For information about our local book club, the men's breakfast, board meetings and other events here, please contact a board member, who can point you in the right direction.

If you'd like to volunteer a little time with one of our committees, it would be greatly appreciated. Many facets of your lovely environment here are managed by volunteer community members. They do everything from ordering plants for the landscaping to picking up trash in the woods, from keeping the books on the finances to helping out with our semi-annual potluck socials. And community input is always welcome on the newsletter!

For the coming weeks, we hope your days will be merry and bright, no matter what or where you're celebrating. We're so glad you're here!

We're adding some fun with a "Where Are They?" feature, and if you know the answers to all the pictures in it, please send to Betsy. We'll announce the winner(s) in our next issue.

Several neighbors accepted the invitation to tour the grounds and look at new landscaping.

Julie Ralston, president of OLPA, is reading the plaque to June Hemby, Tom Hemby and members of the Hemby family and friends.

Where Are They?

Betsy loves old houses! But where's this one?

Chuck poses in one country, with another in the background. You might say, he could see the second one "from his back ___!" Where is he?

Lynn snaps a floral photo...but where?

Dennis seems to be awaiting a bus? trolley? tram? gondola? But where?

Guess where? Sharon Day, Joy Blount, and Jan Eichelberger.

Since she lived in Germany 40 years ago, Betsy Marvin has collected these little wooden angel musicians, enough now to have an orchestra. If you'd like to bring children or grandchildren to see them, email Betsy to make plans.

Guidelines for Contributions:

We love having guest contributors, and welcome your tales of travel, stories of staying home, and other small articles! Please send them anytime to Betsy Marvin.

The media committee is seeking a couple more committee members to help with our five issues per year. We need someone to look for news items, and write some of them up, and could use another photographer to snap shots of residents and properties. If you feel you could volunteer, it probably would take very little time, and think of the glory!
